

Women's Experiences under GWI Snapshot 2012

1. BASIC INFORMATION SECTION

The GWI and women's experiences snapshot asks a set of questions that reveal issues around the differentiated experiences of women regarding the GWI initiative so far.

The tool provides a quantitative-scoring based way of documenting differently positioned women's experiences, i.e. those with and without infants or older children, comparing relative wealth and capturing disabled women's views.

As well as the quantitative assessment, many questions allow for additional narrative details and there are also a few questions requiring a narrative response and finally, at the end of the survey there is room for qualitative comments/feedback.
